

Glasgow City Mission | Staffordshire Blue Brindle Smooth

the blue range

Glasgow City Mission, a contemporary building that easily sits amongst buildings of varying architectural character, scale and massing constructed over a number of years.

The Glasgow City Mission, a resource centre for the city's homeless community, is located in the City's emerging financial district. The design is framed by the enhanced volume colonnaded ground and top floors, with a staggered and recessed window detail to the intermediate three floors which give a depth and weight to the elevations. The relatively simple and modest design rests on the crisp edges and clean lines of the two street elevations, achieved using Ibstock's Staffordshire Blue Brindled Smooth brick and a double soldier course at the floor zones.

The project was shortlisted in the Best Public Building and Best Craftsmanship categories of the 2010 BDA Brick Awards.
